Overview of RELA'S Commitments to Privacy

At RELA ("we", "us", "our"), we occasionally collect and use information which may identify individuals ("personal data"), including insured persons or claimants ("you", "your"). We understand our responsibilities to handle personal data with care, to keep it secure and to comply with applicable data protection laws.

The purpose of this Fair Processing Notice is to provide a clear explanation of when, why and how we collect and use your personal data ("Notice"). We have designed it to be as user friendly as possible, and have labelled sections to make it easy for you to navigate to the information that may be most relevant to you and to allow you to click on a topic to find out more.

Do read this Notice with care. It provides important information about how we use personal data and explains your legal rights. This Notice is not intended to override the terms of any insurance policy you have with insurers or contract you have with us or any rights you might have available under applicable data protection laws.

We may amend this Fair Processing Notice from time to time for example, to keep it up to date or to comply with legal requirements or changes in the way we operate our business. Please regularly check this Notice for updates.

1. Who is responsible for looking after your personal data?

Renewable Energy Loss Adjusters ("RELA") is either provided with your personal data or in some cases may originally be responsible for collecting your information and is a Controller in respect of that personal data.

2. What personal data do we collect?

Insured Persons. In order to advise, arrange, place and administer insurance policies, we collect information about the policyholder and related parties. This may include background and contact information on the policyholder or their representative, and matters relevant to the management of the insurance policy and assessment of risk. The policyholder may be an individual, company or their representative. The level and type of personal data we collect varies depending on the type of policy that you have. In some instances, it is necessary for us to collect and use Special Categories of Data, such as information about a past criminal conviction or health details. We are required to establish a legal exemption to use your Special Categories of Data - see Section 5 for further details. From time to time, you may need to provide us with the personal data of third parties, for example an injured third party relevant to a claim under a liability policy. Wherever possible, you should take steps to inform the third party that you need to disclose their details to us, identifying RELA as your broker and providing them with a copy of this Fair Processing Notice.

Claimants. If you are making a claim under a policy, we will collect your basic contact details, together with information about the nature of your claim and any previous claims. If you are an Insured Person we will need to check details of the policy you are insured under and your claims history. Depending on the nature of your claim, it may be necessary for us to collect and use Special Categories of Data, such as details of a personal injury you may have suffered during an accident. We are required to establish a legal exemption to use your Special Categories of Data - see Section 5 for further details.

*For more information on what information we collect, please see Appendix 1

3. When do we collect your personal data?

Insured Persons

- we will collect information from you directly when you engage us to advise you on your risks and to arrange, place and manage mid-term amendments and changes to insurance policies for you.
- information about you may also be provided to us by other parties such as the insurer(s), other brokers, your employer, a family member or any other third person who may be applying for a policy which names you as the insured.
- we may collect information from other sources where we believe this is necessary to assist in validating claims and/or fighting financial crime. This may include consulting public registers, social media and other online sources, credit reference agencies and other reputable organisations.

Claimant

- we may collect information about individuals when we are notified of a claim and shall disclose such information to insurers and other third parties such as a loss adjuster, assessors, third party administrators, claims handlers and the relevant insurers.
- we may also collect information about you if or when the claim is made by another person who has a close relationship with you or is otherwise linked to the claim - for example if the policyholder is your employer.
- we may also be provided with information by your solicitors.
- we may collect information from other sources where we believe this is necessary to assist in validating claims and/or fighting financial crime. This may include consulting public registers, social media and other online sources, credit reference agencies and other reputable organisations.

4. What do we use your personal data for?

Insured Persons. If you are an insured person we will use your personal data to advise you of your risks and arrange your insurance policies for you. The underwriting process may include Profiling, details of which would be available from your insurer. Once we have provided you with your policy, we will use your personal data to administer your policy, deal with your queries, manage mid-term amendments and changes to policies and manage the renewal process. We may also send you marketing materials (where we have appropriate permissions or where it is in our legitimate interests to do so). We will also need to use your personal data for purposes associated with our legal and regulatory obligations as an insurance intermediary.

Claimants. If you are a claimant we will use your personal data to assess the merits of your claim, and potentially to pay out a settlement. We may also need to use your personal data to evaluate the risk of potential fraud. We may use personal data related to your claim to inform the renewal process and potentially any future policy applications.

5. How do we use personal data?

We will make sure that we only use your personal data for the purposes set out in Section 4 and in Appendix 2 where we are satisfied that:

- our use of your personal data is necessary to perform a contract or take steps to enter into a contract with you (e.g. to manage your insurance policy), or
- our use of your personal data is necessary to comply with a relevant legal or regulatory obligation that we are subject to (e.g. to comply with FCA / PRA requirements), or
- you have provided your consent to us using the data in that way (e.g. to send you marketing materials), or
- our use of your personal data is necessary to support 'legitimate interests' that we have as a business (for example, to improve our products, or to carry out analytics across our datasets), provided it is conducted at all times in a way that is proportionate, and that respects your privacy rights.

Before collecting and/or using any Special Categories of Data we will establish a lawful exemption which will allow us to use that information. This exemption will typically be:

- your explicit consent,
- the establishment, exercise or defence by us or third parties of legal claims, or
- an insurance specific exemption provided under English law, local laws of EU Member States and other countries implementing the GDPR, such as in relation to the processing of health data of an Insured Person's family members or the Special Categories of Data of individuals on a group policy.

PLEASE NOTE. If you provide your explicit consent to permit us to process your Special Categories of Data, you may withdraw your consent to such processing at any time. However, you should be aware that if you choose to do so we may be unable to continue to provide insurance services to you (and it may not be possible for the insurance cover to continue). This may mean that we will not be able to arrange and place your policies, advise you on your risks, assist you with any policy enquiries or assist you with claims you have made against the policies. If you choose to withdraw your consent we will tell you more about the possible consequences, including the effects of cancellation, (which may include that you have difficulties finding other cover), as well as any associated cancellation fees.

Please see Appendix 2 to find out more about the information we collect and use about you and why.

6. Who do we share your personal data with?

We work with many third parties, to help manage our business and deliver services. These third parties may from time to time need to have access to your personal data.

For Insured Persons these third parties may include:

- Brokers, Insurers, Reinsurers and Third Party Administrators who work with us to help manage the underwriting process and administer our policies,
- Service Providers, who help manage our IT and back office systems and processes,
- our regulators, which may include the FCA and ICO as well as other regulators and law enforcement agencies in the EU and around the world,
- credit reference agencies and organisations working to prevent fraud in financial services, and
- solicitors and other professional services firms.

For Claimants this may include:

- Third Party Administrators who work with us to help manage the claims process,

- Loss Adjusters and claims experts and other professionals who help us assess and manage claims,
- Service Providers, who help manage our IT and back office systems and processes,
- Assistance Providers, who can help provide you with assistance in the event of a claim,
- credit reference agencies and organisations working to prevent fraud in financial services, and
- solicitors, who may be legal representatives for you, us or a third party claimant.

We may be under legal or regulatory obligations to share your personal data with courts, regulators, law enforcement or in certain cases other insurers. Also, if we were to sell part of our businesses we would need to transfer your personal data to the purchaser of such businesses.

7. International transfers

From time to time, we may need to share your personal data with some of our Service Providers who may be based outside of the European Economic Area ("EEA"). Depending on the services we provide to you, we may also transfer your personal data to Insurers, Reinsurers or Assistance Providers, who may be located outside the EEA. We will always take steps to ensure that any international transfer of information is carefully managed to protect your rights and interests:

- we will only transfer your personal data to countries which are recognised as providing an adequate level of legal protection, or
- transfers to Insurers, Reinsurers, Service Providers, Assistance Providers and other third parties will always be protected by contractual commitments such as signing the Standard Contractual Clauses with them or where appropriate further assurances, such as certification schemes - for example, the EU - U.S. Privacy Shield for the protection of personal data transferred to the United States.

You have the right to ask us for more information about the safeguards we have put in place as mentioned above. Contact us as set out in Section 11 if you would like further information or to request a copy where the safeguard is documented (which may be redacted to ensure confidentiality).

8. Data analytics

We routinely analyse information in our various systems and databases to help improve the way we run our business, to provide a better service and to enhance the accuracy of our risk models. We take steps to protect privacy by aggregating and where appropriate anonymising data fields (particularly in relation to policy information and claim details) before allowing information to be available for analysis.

9. How long do we keep your personal data?

We will retain your personal data for as long as is reasonably necessary for the purposes listed in Section 4 of this Notice. In some circumstances, we may retain your personal data for longer periods of time, for instance where we are required to do so in accordance with legal, regulatory, tax or accounting requirements.

In specific circumstances, we may also retain your personal data for longer periods of time so that we have an accurate record of your dealings with us in the event of any complaints or challenges, or if we reasonably believe there is a prospect of litigation relating to your personal data or dealings.

We maintain a data retention policy which we apply to records in our care. Where your personal data is no longer required, we will ensure it is either securely deleted or stored in a way which means it will no longer be used by the business.

10. What are your rights?

You have a number of rights in relation to your personal data.

Where you are a data subject, you may request access to your data, correction of any mistakes in our files, erasure of records where no longer required, restriction on the processing of your data, objection to the processing of your data, data portability and various information in relation to any Automated Decision Making and Profiling or the basis for international transfers. This will help us to action your request more quickly.
